12. Indemnification

- 12.1. Compensation for damage takes place after the claim handling process, which includes the determination of the cause, amount and other significant circumstances of the damage.
- 12.2. The obligation to fulfill the insurance contract by the insurer becomes recoverable upon the occurrence of an insured event and after completion of the procedures necessary to determine the size of the obligation of the performance of the insurer
- 12.3. The Insurer is obliged to complete claim handling proceedings and make a decision on indemnification of the loss no later than within 15 (fifteen) calendar days after receipt of all documents required by the Insurer and ascertaining the circumstances of the amount of the loss. The required document may also be a decision in civil, misdemeanor or criminal proceedings initiated in connection with a loss event, which is important for the insurer's obligation to perform
- 12.4. If the process of determining the extent of the insurer's performance is not completed within one month after notification being given of an insured event, the policyholder may, if the occurrence of the insured event is established, request that money be paid at the expense of the insurer's performance obligation in the minimum amount which the insurer should pay under the circumstances

- 12.5. The running of the term shall be suspended for the period during which completion of the process is hindered by circumstances arising from the policyholder
- 12.6. The calculation of the insurance indemnity is based on the proven restoration value of the insured object damaged or destroyed as a result of the insured event
- 12.7. If the insurer indemnifies the damage as a monetary indemnity, the insurer has no obligation to pay the indemnity before the person entitled to receive the insurance indemnity has notified his or her current account number in writing
- 12.8. If insurance indemnity will be reduced or refused to pay, the insurer proceeds from the extent and excusability of the violation of the insured, its effect on the occurrence of the loss event and the determination of the amount of the loss.
- 12.9. Upon indemnification of damage, the insurer has the right to demand the transfer of the damaged or destroyed object to the insurer. Until the transfer of the object or right of claim, the insurer may reduce the insurance indemnity by the value of the corresponding object or right
- 12.10. If there is a dispute between the parties of the insurance contract regarding the amount of the insurance indemnity, the insurer shall pay the amount of the insurance indemnity, which is proved and in respect of which there is no dispute
- 12.11. If a breach of the insurance contract, which is the basis for the reduction or refusal to pay the insurance indemnity, becomes apparent after the payment of the insurance indemnity, the insurer has the right to demand partial or full refund of the paid insurance indemnity.
- 12.12. The Insurer has the right to refuse to pay the indemnity if false information has been submitted regarding the insured event, which affects the circumstances of the insured event and the amount of damage.
- 12.13. If the insurer delays the payment of the insurance indemnity, the insured has the right to demand from the insurer interest on the unpaid amount at the statutory rate for each day of delay, but the total amount of interest on arrears may not exceed 10% (ten percent) of the insurance indemnity.
